EDGE Non-Credit Course Recommendations

All plEDGE students will enroll in three EDGE courses:

- ENG 300: English EDGE
- COUN 300: Student Development EDGE
- MATH 300: Math EDGE or SOC 300: Statistics EDGE
  (Both classes will help prepare students to complete the Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning requirement. Select class based on major.)

MATH 300 and SOC 300 Guidance

Students with the following majors should register for MATH 300:

- STEM (Architecture, Biology, Chemistry, Engineering, Math, Computer Science)
- Elementary School Teaching

Students with the following majors should register for SOC 300:

- Health Science (Nursing)
- Social Science (Administration of Justice, Psychology, Political Science, History, Sociology)
- Kinesiology (PE teacher, personal fitness track)

Students with the following majors can register for either MATH 300 or SOC 300:

The majors below either don't require a specific math class as part of their degree program or have to take both a math course and statistics course. Therefore students in these majors can choose between MATH 300 and SOC 300.

- MATH 300 is meant for STEM majors and/or students who prefer Algebra based courses.
- SOC 300 is suitable for most majors, other than STEM. It will help prepare you for SOC 003 where you will learn how to analyze and interpret statistical data.

- Arts (Graphic Design, Film, Music, Studio Arts, Theater)
- Communications (English, Journalism, Foreign Language, Communication Studies)
- Business (Business Admin, Economics, Information Technology)
- Kinesiology (Pre-Physical Therapy track)
- Vocational Degrees, Certificates (Culinary Arts, Automotive, Air Conditioning, Fire Fighter, EMT, Early Childhood Education, Physical Therapy Assistant)
- Undecided

*Business related and Pre-Physical Therapy majors typically have to take a Math and Statistics course as part of their degree program. They can take either EDGE class.
